DO YOU REMEMBER?

- 1942: Instruction commences at Carleton College.
- 1957: University charter is granted.
- 1959: Rideau River campus opens its doors to staff and students.
- 1962: Residence living is introduced (Renfrew House: Women; Lanark House: Men).
Population: 300+.
Visiting Hours: Men's residence: Restricted; Women's residence: Non-existent.
Separate men's and women's residence associations are created to perform functions of student government.
- 1965: Russell and Grenville House open.
Population: 600+.
Students assume larger role in residence operations and the establishment of residence policies.
Carleton becomes a leader among Canadian Universities in the field of student housing.
- 1969: Glengarry House opens.
Population: 1200+.
Renfrew House becomes the first co-educational residence of its kind in Canada.
The Commons building offers dining, recreational and office facilities within the residence complex.
- 1969: The separate residence associations amalgamate to form the Carleton University Residence Association.
C.U.R.A. assumes leading role in determining the atmosphere and lifestyle that prevail in community.
- 1973: St. Patrick's College affiliates with Carleton
Renfrew House becomes St. Pat's residence with an all male, an all female and a co-educational floor.
- 1976: The Residence Student's Association legally incorporates as the Rideau River Residence Association.

Glengarry House opened its doors in 1969 . . . to men only! It wasn't long before requests surfaced from female residents who wanted to live in the 11-storey, air conditioned building. The following was found amidst the R.R.R.A. files and was obviously written by the "male-chauvinist" residents of Glengarry:

ARGUMENTS AGAINST WOMEN IN GLEN GARRY

1. In every survey of student opinion so far undertaken, the large majority of women indicated a strong preference for living in an all-women residence and a large majority of men preferred an all-male residence. Therefore, conversion of Glengarry to what is effectively a co-ed residence* is contrary to the expressed wishes of the majority of both women and men. The minority who differ can elect co-ed. *co-ed was interpreted as men and women in the same building; not on the same floor as we know it today. (ED.)
2. Maintaining an equality in space available to women is contrary to the actual demand over the past several years. We have always been able to fill Glengarry and have a good-sized waiting list from which to fill vacancies. But we only barely manage to fill women's residence and have no waiting list. So with a higher percentage of withdrawals in women's residence, we always end up with empty rooms. Therefore, we should reduce, not increase space for women; have a waiting list.
3. Glengarry is NOT a suitable place for women (especially those who apply for women's res).
 - a) Noise and security will be real problems (especially in hallways and doubles where new girls will be) so we can expect a high percentage of withdrawals.
 - b) Parents will object to having their daughter living on top of men's residence.
 - c) Washroom facilities are not suitable.
 - d) Security on stairways or elevators is well-nigh impossible.

This little memo was written before residents had a Food Services Committee to represent them. We think it shows the frustration felt when there is a lack of communication.

HEY FOLKS

DON'T COMPLAIN ABOUT SAGA!

Next time you find shit on the bottom of your glass, don't complain. IT WON'T GET US ANYWHERE. Just neatly wrap up your glass in a napkin and step on it. Put in back on your tray.

And next time you get a super greasy or undercooked or just plain bad portion of food, DON'T COMPLAIN. Throw it up on the ceiling. Help create new jobs!

The year was 1970. Now, don't ask us what it was, but because of a certain "Winter Weekend Shack Up" held in the lounge, the "Journalism Be-In" couldn't have their fun unless they could meet the following regulations:

1. No more than 500 in attendance
 2. No liquor is to be sold
 3. Off duty Ottawa City Police must be present
 4. The party ends at midnight.
- It must have been a pretty wild "Shack Up".

1977-1978 . . .

1977

RESIDENCE: Pick a room, any room . . . Second year female residents gleefully moved from double rooms into singles while the Housing Office worried over declining revenues from empty rooms. Residence faced its first crisis as residence waiting lists dwindled down to nothing and students continued to move off campus. New financial standards were discussed for '79 which will hopefully cut the number of "res dropouts".

In early fall, the Carleton Women's Centre went on the warpath against residence tunnel paintings calling them sexist and clearly promoting rape. Res Pres Jim Whitehead refused to deny res students the right to life, liberty and the freedom to paint what they want. Vive la residence libre!

INTERNATIONAL: Margaret Trudeau again made the news in the summer of '77. When the Stones (Rolling, that is) staged a surprise concert at the El Mocambo in Toronto, newly liberated Maggie became the band's number one groupie. Pictures of herself and a "spaced out" Jagger appeared in papers the world over. Now that's show business . . . or is it?

1977 saw the loss of three great men. Bing Crosby and Charles Chaplin both passed away in midyear. But the entire world was stunned as first the rumour and then the truth circulated. The king was dead. Elvis Presley, "the king of rock and roll" was found in his hotel room and apparently died of a heart attack. Thousands flocked to his home in Memphis to mourn their king. It was a final tribute to the man and his music.

SPORTS: On the football scene, the Montreal Alouettes beat the Edmonton Eskimos in the 1977 Grey Cup, and THE RAVENS WON PANDA!!!

The New York Yankees beat the Los Angeles Dodgers in a close series to become the World Series Champions of 1977.

1978

RESIDENCE: Grenville-Russell residents got the opportunity to look over each other's wardrobes when washers and dryers were moved off the floor and into a common laundry room on First Russell. The move was made to provide more available rooms in the "linked" residences.

The R. R. R. A. council recorded their longest meeting ever in 1978 with a controversial 8-hour meeting in the residence coffeeshop. The controversy was over an executive dinner that ran up a bill of $400. Tempers flared and individual personalities were permanently scarred. Perhaps "attack" isn't always the best battle plan.

At the end of the residence intramural season, floor points were tallied and the winners announced. Third Russell took the men's intramural championship title for the second year in a row. Fourth Grenville took the women's division intramural championship for 1978.

In a controversial action, apparently authorized by the Housing Office itself, parts of the residence tunnel paintings were painted over in grey by university painters. The incident occurred only a few days after the last students in residence had left for the summer. The gains res students made in the October tunnel controversy seem to have moved three steps back.

... THE YEAR IN RETROSPECT

INTERNATIONAL: The 1978 Academy Awards began with the usual political allegations, but soon settled down to the matter at hand. The following were the top five awards:

BEST SONG: "You Light Up My Life" (You Light Up My Life).

BEST DIRECTOR: Woody Allen (Annie Hall).

BEST ACTRESS: Diane Keaton (Annie Hall).

BEST ACTOR: Richard Dreyfuss (The Good-bye Girl).

BEST MOVIE: Annie Hall.

The Canadian dollar hit an all time low on the international money market falling to 87 cents in relation to the U.S. dollar. Rumours of a second depression soon spread until the dollar finally climbed back up the economic scale.

On March 1, 1978 a disgusting incident shocked the world. The late Charlie Chaplin's body was taken from its grave site and held for ransom. The body was eventually found in a corn field on May 17/78 and will be returned to the original cemetery. Three men are being held for questioning.

Claude Ryan became the new liberal leader in Quebec in a spring election. Rumours have it that Levesque has finally met his match.

Italy's ex-Prime Minister, Aldo Moro was found in a car trunk after being abducted and held for ransom for almost two months. He had been shot several times. The Italian government had refused to give in to the terrorists' demands.

SPORTS: In a boxing upset, Leon Sphinx was crowned the new World Champion in a split decision bout with Muhammed Ali. Apparently, Sphinx had trained to the Rocky theme before the fight. One more point for the underdog!

Canada's hockey team captured the bronze medal in the 1978 World Cup Hockey Championship.

For the second year in a row, the Montreal Canadiens beat the Boston Bruins to win the 1978 Stanley Cup. The Habs never looked back from the season opener and were clearly the best team in all the divisions.

1979 +

RESIDENCE: Feature flics will offer such academy award winners as: Rocky, Annie Hall, The Rocky Horror Picture Show and Saturday Night Fever.

INTERNATIONAL: After a Russian squadron attacked a Chinese port, the Chinese government announced that war is inevitable between the two countries.

With all the latest science fiction flics (Star Wars, Close Encounters of the Third Kind) rumours are circulating that the top world powers have already made contact with aliens and are trying to prepare the world populace through films that show aliens in a friendly light. May the force be with us!

'77-'78 — A ROUGH YEAR . . .

R.R.R.A. EXECS, BACK: Rob Woodman, Mike Gore, Sharon Bolger, Fred Pelletier. FRONT: Bryce Soto, Jim Whitehead, Dianne Holland, Roy Hardy.

What's in a yearbook? The same items that constitute residence. There are buildings, activities, sports, floors, and most of all, the people. People make up the major proportion of both the Yearbook and the residences. Residence is the place where students hide when they miss or finish their classes. Academics are important and sometimes they even occur in residence; the remainder of the time is devoted to people.

There are res fellows to help people. There are floor reps to make the policies that the people live by. There is the res commons where the main facilities are and often on weeknights the people in the coffeehouse or arcade can be found. There are many things for many people and the unique difference in this residence is that these people govern themselves. No other university has such a liberal residence lifestyle where all may participate in decision making. This is R.R.R.A. Inc., probably the only major useful residence government in any Canadian University. Many good and bad things have occurred over the years and will probably continue to do so. The point is, that this place goes on as the people change from year to year. Someday, maybe more people will stay around longer and residence could approach its true potential and properly reflect all the needs and desires of the people within the houses. Reflection is the point of this yearbook as it is a common thing for us all to reflect when we leave this place. The change and wisdom of the reflective musings of the residents' are passed on to the newcomers and it is hoped they will have just as fine a year as we had - almost!

SAGA

Management Staff, L. - R.: Larry Williams, Denis Malette, Elaine Wilcock, Jimmie Colter, Ed McNeil.

Although it's doubtful that Saga foods will ever become a "Norse legend" ("Saga" definition), the staff did manage to keep 1400 residence students satisfied on a three meal a day plan. For residence early birds, Saga offered both a hot and cold breakfast complimented by a variety of fruits and juices. Lunch was always . . . "interesting" to say the least. Many looked forward to Saturday steak night when Saga offered students the chance to cook their own steak. Special occasions produced special dinners which brought a "touch of class" to the green and purple rooms.

THE OASIS PHASE II

Throughout the year, residence students dropped in at The Oasis Phase II for late night hamburgers, doughnuts, and the ever popular french frie. In the afternoon, The Oasis featured a well stocked bar and a lunchtime buffet for professors and students alike. The popularity of The Oasis on any one day depended upon the menu upstairs in the Saga cafeteria and any sympathy the students felt towards their visiting parents.

Located on the first floor of the Commons, The Oasis often replaced the golden arches whenever residents experienced "Big-Mac" attacks. Marilyn, Roy and Ken . . . "You did it all for us".

ME DOCTOR, YOU NURSE!

The residence infirmary located in 119-120 Glengarry, served students well in 1977-78. The eight staff nurses were always helpful in treating everything from the common cold to the residence blues. For the res student who just had to "get away from it all," the infirmary (while not exactly the Hilton Hotel), provided a free bed and a concerned 24 hour duty nurse. The res infirmary . . . a mother away from home!

Definitely "Molson Exportitus!".

Saved from the grave!

Hard at work.

"I can smell again!"

MAIL!!!

An all too familiar sight!

Mrs. Gower

10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. were magical times in residence. Mail time! Ah yes, those letters from home (with money?), those loving cards from sweethearts, those #%%$# job refusals . . . we got them all! Remember those parcels we proudly paraded around to show the world (well, residence anyway) that somebody loved us out there! And remember the times when you finally got a date with "you-know-who" and you sacrificed your weekend beer money to dry clean those tight "dry clean only" pants? Now that's devotion! The mail and dry cleaning rooms? Two very special residence conveniences.

The Breeze Inn saw many changes this year. Tuesday night became "live talent night" and discovered such celebrities as magician Mike Carbone, whose fire-eating tactics kept the guests gasping for drinks (was that planned, Lazlo?). Open Monday to Thursday only, the coffee house was a great excuse to escape history essays, journalism essays, English essays . . .

GLENGARRY: Gil Degarris.

RUSSELL-GRENVILLE: Robert Brideau and Alice Bue.

LANARK: Germain Gauthier.

Anyone who's ever visited a floor "the morning after" a party, can appreciate the amount of work the residence maintenance crew goes through on any one day. Stairwells and windows are washed daily. Rugs are vacuumed without fail every week and all "artistic" graffiti removed from elevators and walls. Floor raids can involve anything from shaving cream to baby powder and oh yes, rolls upon rolls of toilet paper. Most maintenance personnel took the raids in stride and rarely billed the floor for extra cleaning costs. A special thank you goes out to Bruce Gilliland, head of maintenance, for making residence a good place to come home to.

THE MILLERS, L. - R.: Simon, Mory and Debbie.

Jeff and Debbie Miller lived in the Niagra area via Kingston and Edmonton before settling into the 2nd floor Glengarry senior resident apartment. With them came their loveable dog, Mory, and their cantaloupe-colored cat, Simon. The Millers described 1977-78 as a moderately successful year. They were dismayed by the somewhat cynical outlook of residence students towards their studies and the governments' indifference to the needs of university students in general. However, Jeff and Debbie called the introduction of community standards and co-ed floors in Glengarry as definite improvements. The Millers felt indebted to all the Glengarry resident fellows for a fairly trouble free year. At the time of this printing, the Millers weren't sure where they were headed in 1978-79. Jeff and Debbie? Good luck . . . wherever you are!

THE HARRIS', L. - R.: Linda and Roy.

The mysterious inhabitants of the Glengarry penthouse suite? Why, Linda and Roy Harris of course! Roy, fondly nicknamed "Fozzy" (I wonder why?) by the upper floors, is originally from Ireland, which we suppose explains his sharp wit. Linda is a hometown girl, born and raised in Ottawa. When asked why he applied for senior resident, Roy replied: "I was looking for a place to hang my hat!" When asked the real reason, Roy said: "That was it!" The Harris' felt that they were useful in 1977-78 to the Glengarry residents which made the year a successful one. Linda and Roy described residence in general as "great . . . marvellous". Always entertaining, the Harris' will be returning to their airy apartment in 1978-79.

GRENVILLE: 4 FLOORS (FEMALE)

THE SCHABRACQS, L. - R.: Deborah and Paul.

Self proclaimed middle-class realists, Paul and Deborah Schabracq lived in a plant filled apartment in Grenville during 1977-78. The Schabracqs applied for senior resident because they liked the idea of community, and were anxious to share their world views with the next generation. Paul and Deborah recalled happy times getting to know the Grenville "gals" during coffee mornings and French soirees. Since they've been at Carleton, the Schabracqs have noticed a shift towards a higher concern for education, however they were glad to see the personal initiative involved in the Tuck-In Service and the Mumberley Inheritance. An active couple, Paul and Deborah will be settled in California next fall; Paul to be a surrealist artist and Deborah to be a solar architect, or a science fiction writer, or a jeweller! The Schabracqs? We'll miss them.

LANARK: 4 FLOORS (COED)

THE HENDERSONS, L. - R.: Glen, Susan, "Mai Tai" and Bill.

Bill and Susan Henderson, senior residents for Lanark, found the residence community to be cohesive, active and a very pleasant place in which to live. Bill, who hails from Niagara Falls and Susan, who is from Newmarket, both felt that the experience of "going back to school" would be more rewarding if they were able to integrate their family into the residence community. That's why they applied for senior resident. Glen, their $2\frac{1}{2}$ year old son and "Mai Tai", a 4 year old Shih Tzu complete the Henderson family. They described Lanark as very congenial and were happy for the chance to meet so many students on common ground. Bill and Susan send out a special thank you to all residence students, who they described as a continuing source of delight and friendship to Glen. Their plans for 1978-79? Senior residents for Lanark House, of course!

RENFREW: 4 FLOORS (MALE, FEMALE, COED)

THE SANDFORDS, L. - R.: Keli Anne, "Sandy", Keri Lyn, Carolyn and Amber.

Carolyn and Norm Sandford wanted both a change in their lifestyle and a new family challenge. True to their word, they accepted the position of senior residents in Renfrew House. Looking back on 1977-78, the Sandfords said they learned a lot about themselves, both as individuals and as a family. They met many interesting (unusual?) people and experienced a wide variety of personally gratifying encounters. Carolyn and Norm described Renfrew as a far cry from suburbia and were amazed at all the changes residents went through in only eight months. On the overall residence scene, the Sandfords hoped that residence's potential to compliment the overall academic experience more would soon be fulfilled. Norm and Carolyn, along with their three daughters; Keri Lyn, Keli Anne, and Amber, will be returning to Renfrew's "hallowed halls" in 1978-79.

RUSSELL: 4 FLOORS (MALE)

THE GILLINGHAMS, L. - R.: Helen, Sara, Bryan and Greg.

The Gillinghams can be called world travellers of a sort as the family has lived in Canada, the U.S. and England. Son Greg was born in Nova Scotia while sister Sara came into being in Seattle, Washington. Bryan and Helen, originally from B.C., settled into Russell House this year as Bryan has a teaching position at Carleton. 1977-78 was labelled as a year of learning by the Gillinghams. They enjoyed their interactions with residence students. Compared to U.B.C. Lower Male Residence, the Gillinghams found Russell a much more efficiently run, relaxed place in which to live. They noticed that students have a much greater part in the running of the residence here. Male students who recall pots of hot bagels and cream cheese will be happy to know that the Gillingham family will be returning to Carleton Residence in 1978-79.

FIRST RUSSELL

L. - R., ROW 1: Brian Roberts, Pierre Ayotte, Ken Long, Denis Fabris, Joe Hendricks, Scott Taylor, "Wanda".

Ralf Massar, Floor Rep; Dan Thompson, Res Fellow.

PLACE YOUR BETS!

Ever dream of winning a million dollars? Well, if you're anything like the average resident student you can hardly afford a lottery ticket right? But at last there was a chance to become part of "The Sting" for free! Monte Carlo night! Residents dressed in their best tycoon fashion, to play the wheel, 5-card stud, and the devil's blackjack. It was fun to watch students lose their shirt and walk away smiling! Hit me again, baby!

NINTH BATTLES FOR SECOND

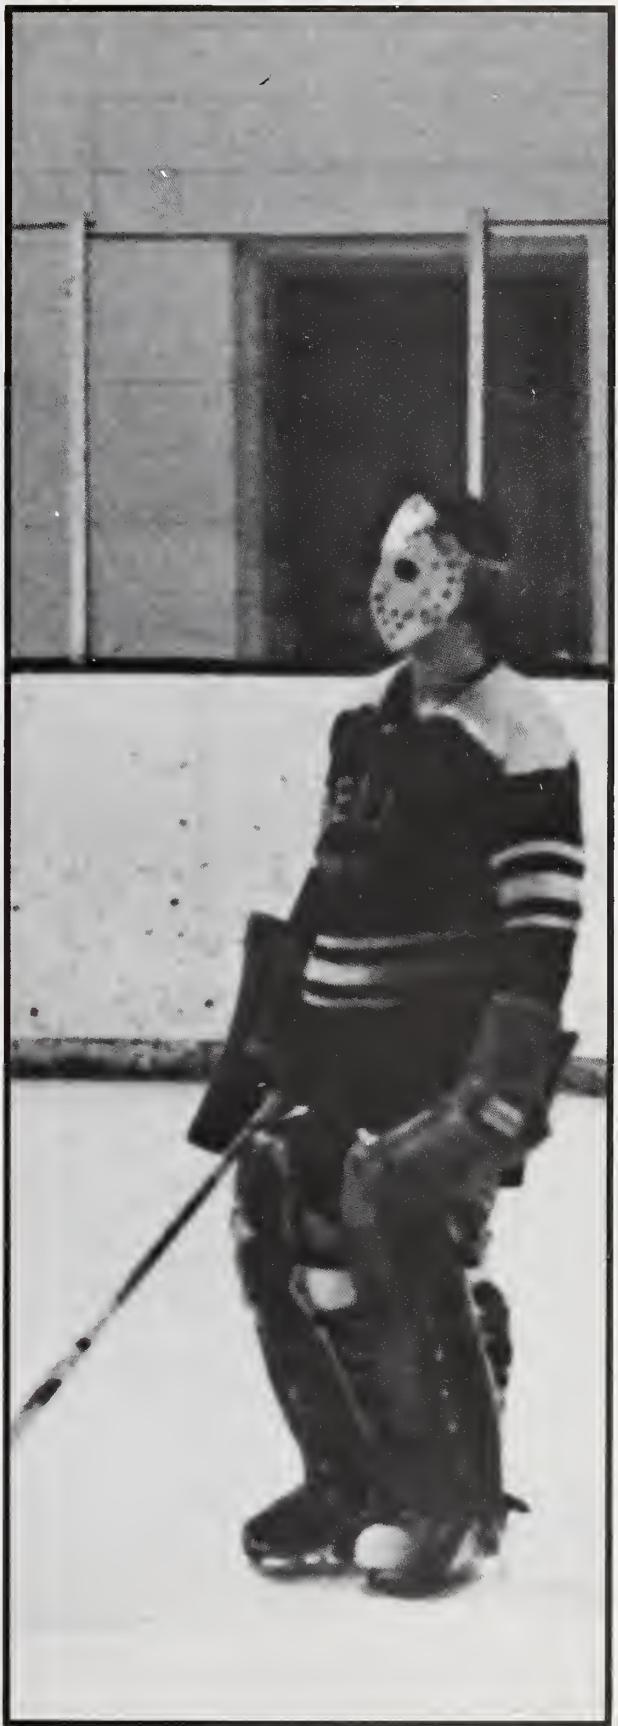

3rd RUSSELL . . .

As usual, hockey was a popular sport with the residence students during the past year. There was a lot of interest generated by the residence teams and the games proved to be a worthwhile way to pass the time.

...NO. 1 IN HOCKEY!

This past year, third Russell managed to overcome a number of other teams and capture the "Stanley Cup of Residence Hockey". The team members moved so fast across the ice that it was impossible for our photographers to get a photo of them for this page.

2nd LANARK NAMED VOLLEYBALL CHAMPS!

The second Lanark volleyball team, composed of Tom Saunder, Alex Gnoinski, Nicholas Garland, Mike Lant and Frank Andrews, managed to overcome eight other teams in the playoffs and win the 1977-78 intramural volleyball tournament.

SOCER

The intramural soccer tournament of 1978 was a success embodying the true spirit of intramuralism. The soccer competition was one of gentlemanly finesse and mutual self-betterment for all participants. The end result of the tournament was victory for the common kicker as Residence's dark horse entry, Second Russell, captured the championship. The Russell Team throughout the tournament crushed the other campus soccer teams in an emotional battle. The Russell soccer experience illustrates how, through the leadership of an experienced kicker, a mass of determined athletes can realize their potential in the struggle for possession of the spotted ball.

HALLOWE'EN

ONE MORE FOR THE ROAD

POP
TOP!

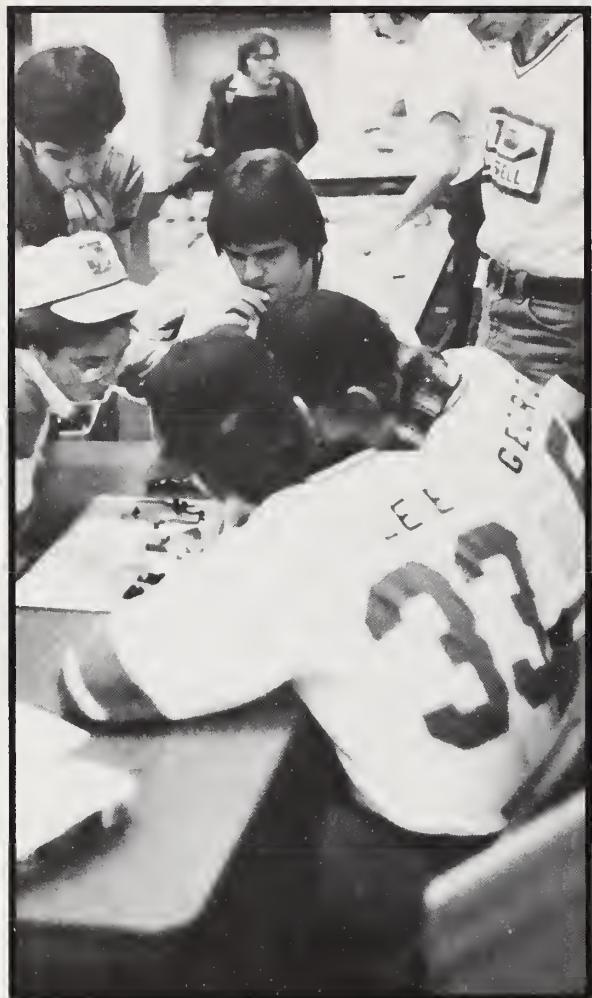

When res students yelled "CAPS!", they weren't exactly referring to the latest hat styles on the market. But after a hard week on the hill, residents often relaxed on their floors with mugs full of beer. The game of CAPS consists of tossing beer caps into each other's mugs. If the target is hit, the 'victim' must 'chug his mug'. It was rumoured that a case of 2-4 could be consumed within a startling 30 minutes. CAPS tonight? Cheers!

RESIDENCE WEEK!

SATURDAY NIGHT FEVER

... "Oh really???"

"Staying alive! Staying alive!"

1977-78 floor dinners introduced "Saturday Night Fever" to residence. Floors paired up early in the year and were "wined and dined" at a special dinner of their choice prepared by the Saga chefs. After dinner, students attacked the dance floor, (not to mention the bar) until the wee hours of the morning. John Travolta, eat your heart out!

"Feeling right! Feeling night fever!"

"Will you love me forever?"

Under the direction of Wendy Martin and Debbie Smyth, the residence cast presents for your enjoyment the Mumberley Inheritance.

Ian Fine	Jack Mumberley
Anne Shusterman	Polly
Marvin Ryder	Marmaduke Mayhem
Chris Genik	Crispin Cringe
Sandra Berry	Dotty
Kirk Falconer	Rodney Stoutheart

The Mumberley Inheritance is presented to you this evening through the efforts of the Educational Development Group of the Rideau River Residence Association.

The Mumberley Inheritance

by: Warren
Graves

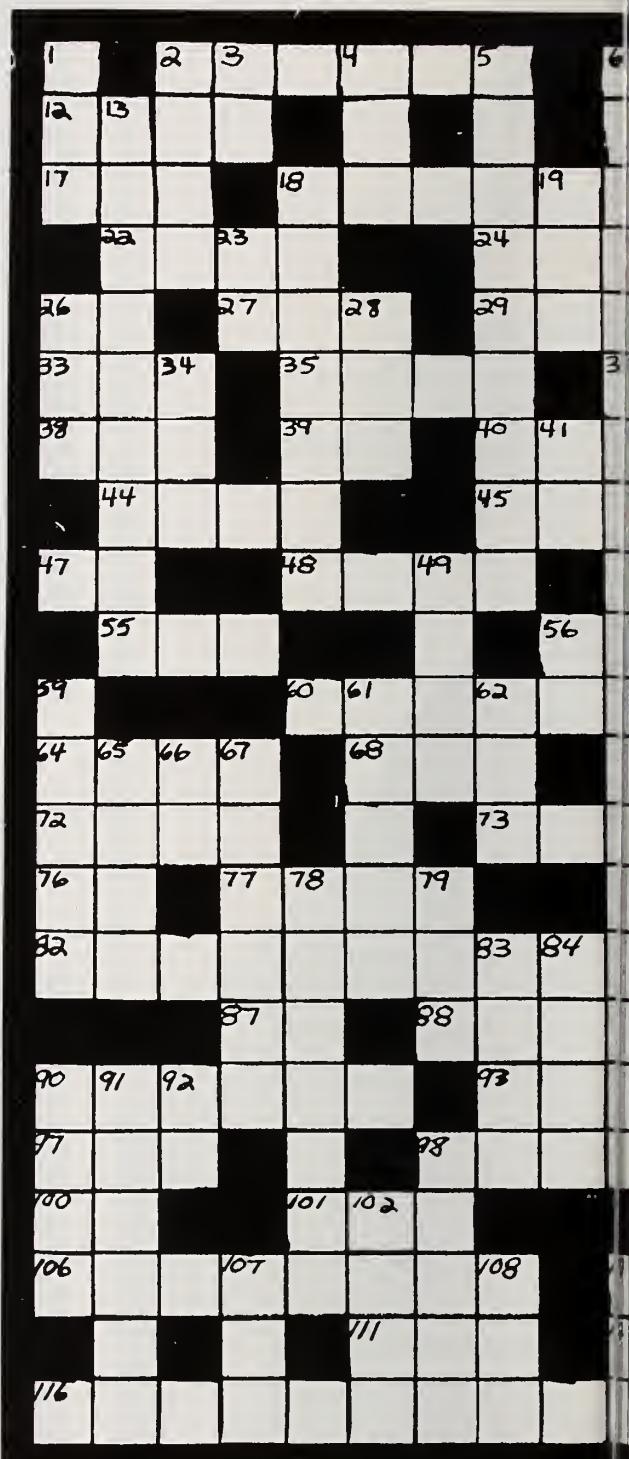

It's that evil villain Marmaduke Mayhem after the beautiful Miss Daphne and Mumberley Manor! Will Rodney Stouthead save the day? The Residence Association Theatre Co. is pleased to present the first ever residence play: "The Mumberley Inheritance", an old fashioned melodrama which is guaranteed a good time for all!!

The following were the 1970 regulations concerning "visitors" in residence:

1. All overnight guests must check in at the Glengarry reception desk.
2. Guests have the option of a room in residence at $3.00 per night (if available) or sharing the "host's" room with the use of a cot. A $4.50 deposit must be made for the cot and linen for the first night. The charge for each additional night is $1.00 - upon return of the cot the sum of $1.50 will be refunded.
3. Whenever possible guest arrangements are to be made prior to 5:00 p.m.
4. The maximum period visitors may remain in residence is three days.
5. Any residence student who has an unregistered guest in his or her room will be charged $5.00 and be expelled from the residence.
6. A maximum of two guests per room.
7. The consent of the roommate is required.

... THE RAGG IS BORN!

Sandi Campbell, Editor

In April of 1977, newly elected president of R.R.R.A., Jim Whitehead, began making his campaign promises come true. Although not foremost on his list, what with more pertinent decisions at hand, a residence yearbook was always one of Jim's dreams . . . a dream that has at last become a reality. The Ragg was officially born during Residence Week, 1978. And believe me, we've come a long way, baby! From staff meetings in my residence room, to an office behind the Oasis (formerly a beer freezer), we finally settled in a large (warm!) office in the Lanark breezeway. Perhaps the one question our staff received most often from residents was: "Why the Ragg?". To begin with, we chose an "r" word so the title would flow easily with "residence" and "R.R.R.A." Ragg defined, means a "rowdy celebration". Now, we're not so naive as to say that residence is always one big happy family. We live here too, remember? But let's face it, the "downs" really have been few. Hopefully the Ragg, volume one, reflects the togetherness and community spirit evident this year in residence. The Ragg staff joins layout editor, Gary Hoyle, in extending thanks to Eric Hutchinson, Kirk Falconer, David Nogas and Jane Tetley for their special contributions to the Ragg throughout the year. Alvin Pan is the talented artist responsible for the beautiful divider pages. Dennis Brown, our company rep., was, as always, a great help and a terrific host. Lastly, I'd personally like to thank Jim Whitehead for his moral support, Robert Woodman for his financial support and Mike Gore for being "somewhat enamored of me".
